

Indigenous Peoples' Rights and Projects (IPR&P)

e-learning programme

CiG COMMUNITY INSIGHTS
GROUP

University of Strathclyde
Glasgow

IPR&P

e-learning programme

The purpose of this course is to provide an introduction to Indigenous Peoples' rights in the context of investment projects taking place in or near the lands and waters they use or traditionally occupy.

The 10 short modules will take participants on a journey of understanding and developing respect for Indigenous Peoples' rights, while enabling access to methods, tools and mechanisms to be used in the workplace.

6 week
online self-paced course

10 modules, 10 topics to discover

3 online
sessions with tutors

35 hours
of total effort

Downloadable course
materials

Topics

Each module covers a specific topic about Indigenous Peoples' Rights and Projects.

All modules include interviews with, and contributions from, practitioners with deep expertise in the field to explain key concepts and share their experiences and views.

Module 1 Who are Indigenous Peoples?

Module 2 International legal frameworks, standards and Indigenous rights

Module 3 Indigenous rights in national contexts

Module 4 Consultation & FPIC

Module 5 Impact-Benefit Agreements

Module 6 Benefit-sharing

Module 7 ESIA's for projects on Indigenous lands and waters

Module 8 Indigenous cultural heritage impacts

Module 9 Health impacts

Module 10 Indigenous defenders

Course Leaders

Dr Ana Maria Esteves

Course Leader

Ana Maria is the founder of Community Insights Group. Her expertise lies in how energy, extractives, infrastructure and agribusiness projects can avoid harm and provide equitable benefits to local communities while respecting human rights. Ana Maria is a Visiting Professor at the Faculty of Engineering, University of Strathclyde and a past President of the board of the International Association for Impact Assessment (IAIA) (2016-17).

Francesco Mazzei

Course Coordinator & Tutor

Francesco is a Canadian based social performance and sustainability specialist with over a decade of experience supporting the development and implementation of social and health impact assessments and social impact management plans for Indigenous and non-Indigenous governments, communities and other stakeholders. He currently serves as a Board member for the IAIA.

Dr Kathryn Tomlinson

Tutor

Kathryn is an experienced professional in the field of social and human rights impact management. Kathryn has a particular expertise in projects dealing with the intersection between Indigenous and customary land rights, and private and public sector development, including impact management and benefit agreements between companies and communities.

Course Structure

WEEK 1

Modules 1 to 2 available
Welcome session

WEEK 2

Modules 3 to 4 available

WEEK 3

Modules 5 to 6 available
1st Tutorial

WEEK 4

Modules 7 to 8 available

WEEK 5

Modules 9 to 10 available

WEEK 6

2nd Tutorial

Getting Started

- Class size is limited, so you are encouraged to apply early
- Criteria for attendance include:
 - ① a bachelor's degree in any field (or any graduate or post-graduate degree)
 - ② a minimum of 2 years professional experience in investment project development, e.g., infrastructure, energy, mining, oil and gas
- A limited number of exceptional candidates without a bachelor's degree may be declared eligible by the course leaders on the basis of their professional experience
- Course fee - £600 per student

The course is aimed at an international audience of social performance and sustainability practitioners and people involved in the governance of projects from public and private institutions.

To obtain a participation certificate, course completion of 70% and tutorial participation is required. For a course completion certificate, 100% completion and tutorial participation is required together with the submission of a short written reflection at the end of the course.

To apply for a place on the course, please register your interest with Community Insights Group here

Application can be made up to

21 October 2024

Online course delivery starts

28 October 2024

and ends

06 December 2024

Mandatory 1-hour tutorials

Introductory meeting
28 October, 15:00 GMT

Tutorial 1
13 November, 15:00 GMT

Tutorial 2
27 November, 15:00 GMT

For further information contact Francesco Mazzei at fmazzei@communityinsights.eu

www.communityinsights.eu | www.strath.ac.uk